

INDUSTRY SEMINAR

PEDRO GONZALEZ (CO-FOUNDER, CSO), TONI GABALDON (CO-FOUNDER & SCIENTIFIC ADVISOR), JORDI NAVARRO (CEO)

Microomics, a CRG spin-off specialized in high-resolution metagenomics and bioinformatics, will share its journey from scientific concept to a thriving company. Founded in 2017, the company supports research across academia, healthcare, agri-food and biotech. The seminar will cover Microomics' growth, challenges, and vision, with insights for researchers considering a move into entrepreneurship. Attendees will also hear about an open position bridging science and business—ideal for those exploring a transition to industry.
